Annex: Attendance List

The meeting opened at 9h00 with Mr Bogdan KLICH, Chairman of the delegation.

1.

The agenda of the meeting was adopted unanimously.

2.

Mr KLICH welcomed Ms Anne KOISTINEN who represented the European Commission and made the following announcements:

- the previous week a meeting of the members of the Belarusian opposition was held;
- during the meeting of the bureau with Mr Senko, the Ambassador of the Republic of Belarus, the discussions were held on how the delegation might proceed in its contacts with the Belarusian authorities, opposition, NGOs and representative of civil society;
- the Ambassador wished to meet the whole delegation.

Mr KLICH noted that he repeated his request to the Ambassador that the observation delegation of the European Parliament should be invited to observe the parliamentary elections on October 17. The Ambassador did not accept a parliamentary troika as a suitable framework and the observation of the elections will be conducted only through OSCE/ODIHR channels.

Ms KOISTINEN informed the members of the delegation on the general political situation in Belarus at the present moment. She said that it has been worsening with many NGOs and newspapers being closed, opposition members being harassed and the freedom of expression being suppressed. Since 2002 there has been no progress in relations between Belarus and the EU institutions. the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe had issued a report on disappearances of people in Belarus and, in September 2004, a resolution on this issue the reaction to which in Belarus was negative. Ms KOISTINEN said that the implementation of the New Neighbourhood Policy towards Belarus faces problems as there were no shared common values between the EU and Belarus. However, the Commission had assistance schemes including Chernobyl, Human Rights, civil society and the dissemination of information about EU. It was also stressed that although the EU was not invited to observe the elections on October 17, OSCE/ODIHR will send the observers and a special attention will be paid to the campaign preceding the elections and the freedom of the media.

A discussion followed with questions and comments from Mr SAKALAS, Mr ONYSZKIEWICZ, Mr GENTVILAS, Mr PAVILIONIS, Mr GOMOLKA, and Mrs KUDRYCKA about the adequate number of observers during the elections, possibilities of creating a free radio on the territory of a neighbouring state in order to disseminate information, the problem of education in the Belarusian language and possibilities of granting scholarships to Belarusian students willing to continue their education outside Belarus. Mrs SCHROEDTER urged the Commission to give precise data on what has been done in Belarus and how the money allocated over the past years has been spent.

Mrs KOISTINEN responded to the questions. It was concluded that the delegation would write a letter to the Commission asking for the report on their activities and raise the issue of a possibility of establishing an independent radio.

Mr KLICH concluded by outlining four further steps in the work of the delegation:

- the next meeting will be held right after the elections in order to try to evaluate the results and effects of the meeting;
- the next resolution of the EP on the referendum in Belarus could be adopted promptly;
- the Foreign Affairs Committee will be asked to prepare a report on Belarus

- a meeting with the Belarusian Ambassador will be held after the elections will have taken place.

5.

There were no further comments or suggestions from the members.

6. Mr KLICH informed the members that the date and time of the next meeting would be communicated to them later, after the elections in Belarus will have taken place. He also noted that the meeting would be open only to the members of the delegation, assistants, the secretariat and invited persons.

The meeting closed at 10h00.
