Article 1

Objective

1. Without prejudice to the competence of the Community or to the established structures for determining the position of the Member States in accession negotiations, a mechanism for collective evaluation of the enactment, application and effective implementation by the States which are candidates for accession to the European Union (the candidate countries) of the acquis of the Union in the field of Justice and Home Affairs shall be established in accordance with the provisions set out below.

2. Each Member State shall ensure that its national authorities cooperate fully in implementing the mechanism for collective evaluation established under this Joint Action (the evaluation mechanism).

Article 2

1. A group of experts, to be established in accordance with the Council's rules of procedure under the supervision of the Committee of Permanent Representatives of the Member States (Coreper), shall have the task of preparing and keeping up-to-date collective evaluations of the situation in the candidate countries on the enactment, application and effective implementation of the acquis of the Union in the field of Justice and Home Affairs.

2. One or more Member States, in close association with the Commission, may give particular assistance in preparing and maintaining for a particular candidate country comprehensive reports which would form the basis of the evaluations referred to in paragraph 1, taking account of information made available under Article 3.

Article 3

Compilation of information

- information provided individually and collectively by Member States based on their direct experience of working with the candidate countries, including information available within Schengen,
- reports, as appropriate, from Member States' Embassies and Commission delegations in the candidate countries, on the basis, where necessary, of a questionnaire to be prepared by the group of experts,
- information available to the Commission through its role in the overall process of accession, including reports from missions conducted in the framework of the PHARE programme,
- reports of the Council of Europe on the implementation of Council of Europe Conventions and recommendations, or by any other sources which are deemed to be relevant with regard to the content of the acquis.

3. If additional information is considered necessary, ad hoc teams of representatives and experts of Member States and the Commission shall be formed to carry out further missions on specific aspects, without overburdening the candidate countries. The decision whether to establish such missions and their composition, timing and terms of reference shall be decided by the Council, acting by qualified majority, on advice from the group of experts, in close cooperation with the Commission.

Article 4

Progress and results of the evaluation mechanism

1. The group of experts shall, through Coreper and in close cooperation with the Committee established under Article K.4 of the Treaty and with other Council bodies involved in the enlargement process, report to the Council on the progress and results of the evaluations.
